

WorkReady NDIS Employment Supports

Whether you're a jobseeker or school leaver, our WorkReady program helps NDIS participants build life skills, prepare for work and connect to employment and training opportunities.

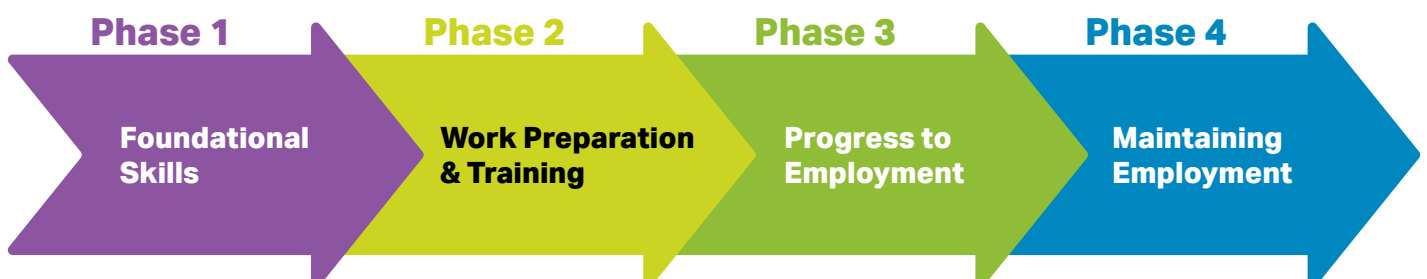

What is the WorkReady program?

Our WorkReady program is specially designed for NDIS participants with employment goals in their plan.

- Build practical skills
- Explore your interests
- Gain experience
- Prepare for work
- Connect to training
- Step into employment

Whether you're new to employment, re-entering the workplace or thinking about extra study or training, WorkReady can support your goals.

Your journey to becoming WorkReady

Flexible Service Options

WorkReady is designed to be flexible and responsive — so you can engage in a way that suits your needs.

- One-on-one support
- Group workshops
- Online sessions
- Face-to-face meetings

Why choose WorkReady?

- Strong network of inclusive employers across industries
- Focus on open employment for long-term career outcomes
- Facilitated work experience & industry days to build confidence and skills
- Flexible service options tailored to your needs

There are two NDIS funding pathways to access the WorkReady program - School Leaver Employment Supports (SLES) and Finding and Keeping a Job (FaKJ) funding.

School Leaver Employment Support (SLES)

Finishing school? Take your next big step with us.

The WorkReady program supports students to transition smoothly from school into employment or further study. With a strong focus on employment training and life skill development, WorkReady will help you discover your interests and strengths, connecting you to work experiences, training and employment opportunities.

Finding and Keeping a Job (FaKJ)

Live with a disability and want to work?

If you have employment goals in your NDIS plan, the WorkReady program offers tailored vocational supports to help you explore career options and build job-readiness skills so you can prepare for and maintain meaningful employment.

Ready to launch your career?

For nearly 50 years, Ability Options has been empowering people living with disability to pursue fulfilling employment and greater independence. "When I first started looking for work, I was stressed and found social interactions hard. But the support I've had from my Ability Options mentor has made all the difference. They helped me with my communication and I'm a lot more confident now. Now I am working as part of a team and have been recognised for my efforts at work. I'm proud of what I've achieved. "
